No one likes to fail. No one ever likes to feel that they have let someone (or themselves) down. However, if you have lived longer than about 5 minutes, you have failed in some capacity. When failure comes, how do we respond? One article suggested there are four ways that people respond to failure and only one is helpful:

1) The Godzilla response - When we fail we explode in anger and try to destroy everything and everyone in our path in a foolish attempt to make ourselves feel better.

2) The Hummingbird response - When we fail we simply dart to the next thing without dealing with the reason for our failure or its consequences.

3) The Deer in the Headlights response - When we fail we freeze, unable to complete a thought much less a plan to deal with our failure.

These three responses are certainly not helpful, and spiritually speaking, they are the cause of some unnecessary feelings of pain, guilt, and grief. However, there is a fourth response that we will be talking about today.

4) The Phoenix response - When we fail, we acknowledge the ashes around us, we learn why we failed, and we rise to meet the next challenge.

As we study John 4 today, let's do so with a clear idea of who we want to be when failure strikes.

Sick

Alvin & Jackie Poss are now at home.

Jan Dixon had eye surgery Wednesday.

Eddie Maxwell had knee surgery Thursday.

Linda Rekart is recovering from foot surgery.

Stephen Speake is recovering from foot surgery.

Paul Anthony, brother-in-law to Linda Rekart, has severe dementia and will soon need constant attention. Her sister, Lana, is looking for places and ways for help and is in need of prayers.

Bonnie, daughter of Earl Smith, has a spot on her liver.

Brian Ogletree, brother-in-law to Nicholas Wright, had his first surgery and the cancerous tumor was removed and had not spread. He will have a colon re-section Tuesday to remove a large mass. They are unsure if it is cancer.

Chad Belew, father to Houston and Hannah and also cousin to Todd Springer, is on a ventilator in Vanderbilt.

Lisa Roberts, Ruthie Whitley, Rodney Wright, and Will Wright, relatives of Millie Goode, are having health problems.
