An oft-asked question to those who do not share our belief in a Creator/Designer of the universe is "How can something come from nothing?" The truth is, the atheist and agnostic community has struggled with an agreed-upon answer to this query. Even Stephen Hawking, a world-renowned theoretical physicist and proclaimed atheist, had to finally admit that "something" could not come from "nothing" unless an event took place that could not be explained by reasonable, scientific occurrences. If it is the fact that a scientist, whose agenda is to disprove the existence of God, cannot find a pathway to prove that blasphemous statement, shouldn't we completely and totally feel comfortable in our loving faith?

If that is the case, then shouldn't we feel comfortable in acknowledging that Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the Messiah spoken of for centuries before His arrival, is the King of Kings and Lord of Lords?

If we acknowledge that, then we absolutely must deny ourselves, shoulder our cross, and follow the King. As we study this morning, we are going to openly worship the fact that God took "nothing" and turned it into "everything". Join us in this study and let's worship the God who loves us more than anything.
