The love of God compels us, controls us, and leads us into a beautiful place in our lives. It is a place of total surrender and total peace when we are in a right standing with God. It is a place that allows us to feel released from our idol worship that appears so prevalent in our world today. It is a place that allows us to feel joyful in the knowledge that we no longer live as fearful slaves to sin, but as children of God, and if children, then heirs with Christ.

This morning, we will examine the concept of dust and grace. The initial reaction might be to wonder how those things work together, but I hope that by the end of our study you will see how God has done wonders with dust and how God does wonders with us through His grace.

Be prayerful this morning, be serious about your worship and study, and be prepared to move closer to God in His presence this morning. Prepare yourself to be uplifted, challenged (if needed), and encouraged by the fellowship you experience with fellow believers.
