The church of Christ, the church of the Bible, should always be constructed in a manner that promotes compassion, peace, faithfulness, and evangelism. When these things are the aim of a group of the Lord's people, the church will not only survive the natural ebbs and flows of existing in a world gone mad, but the church will thrive and grow. I have always believed that the church of Christ that meets here at Rogersville is aiming at those things.

- We stand for and firmly believe that loving your neighbor is vital to living right before God.
- We stand for and firmly believe that peace is attainable and that we can work together in harmony.
- We stand for and firmly believe that someone deciding to be baptized is not the finish line, but rather a starting line for a life that must continue to grow and develop.
- We stand for and firmly believe that the gospel message of Jesus Christ can save anyone who hears and obeys it.

These things may not be as obvious to some who have seemingly never had an issue where the church stepped up and intervened. However, for those of us who have had things happen or for those who are actively living in the struggle, we see these aims and are proud to be affiliated with the church that represents them.

As we study this morning, give God your gratitude for allowing this church to continue to grow and help so many people. -SW
