There is always a sense when we come to the building that something unique is taking place here. The events, the studies, the vocabulary, the actions all indicate that we are taking part in something that does not fit anywhere else in our lives. However, if we are able to look deeper into our attendance, we might be surprised to find that some only come out of ritual or out of guilt or even because they feel 'made to'. Personally, I believe this to be the reason that many churches are struggling (even now) ... the pandemic and the rise of 'insta-church' online have exposed those who only came to be a part of social experiment or those who came because it was a Sunday ritual for many years prior.

With this somewhat dark cloud as an introduction, I hope that we all see the ray of sunshine that is provided from a brief letter written many, many years ago. An apostle sat down with his pen and paper and wrote a letter to a lady who loved God and was involved in her community's spiritual formation. From that letter we can find the glimmer needed to remind us why this spiritual family matters and why everyone of us are needed to accomplish the mission set out for us.
