The church has meant so much to me over the years. It has been a place of refuge during the storms of life. It has been a place to share joy over things that have happened in my personal life. It has been a place where wrongs were recognized, repented of, and corrections were made that brought me back to my relationship with God. It has even been a place of discomfort because we are, after all, humans trying to do what is right.

Overall, the church has been a place of peace more times than not. Strife and stress may come, but ultimately, I have always believed that with the support and stability provided by the church, I can remain faithful. In the same breath, I am amazed how flippantly some people treat the church and I do not understand how those who are not active in the church get through the things I listed above. I pray for all of us that we do not see the church as a social club where we 'see our friends', but that we see the church as the family of God, intended to support, rejoice, challenge, and strive to do what is right together.

We, as a church family, pray that you are encouraged and uplifted by the worship of our God. We pray that you will stay and fellowship with the family of God and then return to engage in a period of Bible study.
