Parents, you are encouraging to so many!

The older woman who feels alone smiles as she watched you struggle to corral your child. She has been there before and would gladly go there again. She knows how hard it can be, but the sight of young parents and small children in worship brightens her day!

You give hope to the old man who seems so grouchy and is always talking about how children today have no respect. But he sees you and thinks maybe the church isn't doomed after all. You make his day by showing your love for God and by bringing your restless child to worship!

Then there is everybody else! Your presence and concern for your family are such an encouragement to everyone!

Then He said, "Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 19:13-15)

Keep bringing your children to worship! You are such an encouragement, and you are starting your children's life off the way you should. As hard as it might be for you as a parent, keep doing what you are doing!

WE love you and WE love your children!
