We hope that it is a wonderful Father's Day for all. We are thankful for your encouraging presence this morning and we pray that you have a great day remembering your father and celebrating your father.

- There are those who are hurting this morning because they have lost their father and we want you to know that you are loved and prayed for here among your church family.
- There are those who have a negative relationship with their father and we want you to know that you are loved and prayed for here among your church family.
- There are those who wish for a stronger relationship with their father and we want you to know that we want to be the support system for you as you work through those things.
- There are those who have a wonderful relationship with their father and we would never want you to feel bad for having that type of relationship, rather we want to celebrate with you and encourage you to keep building on that positivity.

THIS MORNING: We will study what the Bible says about a particular father and his great example. In the story of Abraham we find a father who tried to do things his own way and make his own path, but came to realize that following the commands of God provided a far greater reward. That is our prayer for each father in the audience today, that you would prioritize the commands of God in your personal life so that you can influence your family to do the same.

TONIGHT: We will look at Joshua 1 and what it really means to be strong and courageous. -SW
