ROGERSVILLE CHURCH OF CHRIST MARCH 02, 2025

There are experiences in life that can shape or mold your direction. For many of us, we can track those experiences from our early childhood all the way up to even this very day. These experiences could be the first time we remember hearing and understanding the good news about Jesus Christ. It could be the loss of a loved one that caused us to reflect on the direction our life is heading. It could be the beginning, ending or culmination of a relationship that gives us a new direction for our personal growth.

In so many of these experiences, we see God and His love for us. The problem that some of us have is that we know God loves us, but how would anyone know that we love Him? At CYC this past weekend, I was able to sing one of my favorite songs "The Goodness of God" with over 12,000 people and it easily felt like a preview of heaven. However, I was then faced with a realistic concern that no one in that room (myself included) has that mountaintop experience regularly. Therefore, it becomes all the more imperative that my experiences are building me up to lean on God and not my own emotions, feelings, plans, thoughts, etc.

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will make straight your paths. Be not wise in your own eyes; fear the Lord, and turn away from evil. It will be healing to your flesh and refreshment to your bones." (Proverbs 3:5-8)

-Scott Wright
