Life is hard. Life is difficult. Life is _____. You and I may have similar thoughts about how life is perceived. We may have differing opinions on how life goes, has gone, or will go in the future. There are some who seemingly get all the breaks, have all the luck, and live riding on cloud 9 in our opinion. There are others who seemingly never catch a break, always struggle to keep their head above water, and appear to be one more bad day away from total collapse. Life is different for every single person on the planet because every one of us brings a different point of view, a different socio-economic status, a different upbringing, and even a different set of skills to each and every day of that life.

However, there is one thing about life that is universally true and cannot ever be changed. Life is short. James stated it this way, "13 Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we will go into such and such a town and spend a year there and trade and make a profit"— 14 yet you do not know what tomorrow will bring. What is your life? For you are a mist that appears for a little time and then vanishes. 15 Instead you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we will live and do this or that." 16 As it is, you boast in your arrogance. All such boasting is evil. 17 So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin." (James 4:13-17)

So if we can all agree on the fact that life is short for everyone, then can we also agree that we should do whatever it takes to solidify where we will spend eternity?
